NEW SEASON NOW STREAMING!

Our latest episodes are now airing nationwide on Public Television / PBS stations and streaming on Amazon Video and YouTube so you can check us out anytime! Here's a sneak peek!

Our new season is filled to the brim with educational topics for all ages. We learned about the art of graffiti on city streets and life in the Adirondacks to satellites showing us the galaxies and the role that coding has played in our national security throughout history...plus lots more! Check out the trailers for each entertaining and educational episode here! We promise you'll learn something new and become a proud 'lifelong learner' too!

There's plenty of 'pint size' fun at the Metropolitan Museum of Art's 81st STREET STUDIO. Families and caregivers can expose kiddos 3 – 11 yrs. old to art and science with interactive exhibits and materials. What a great way to explore both art and science throughout the vast MET collection in a fun, creative space!

A Nazi seized watercolor by Egon Schiele was recently auctioned by Christie's London. 'Boy in a Sailor Suit' was owned by a private collector in Germany who had purchased the work on paper from Sotheby's London in 1992. It sold for almost $4.5 million. Quite the journey for this 1914 work of art. If only it could tell us about its' journey. Check out our season 5 trailer of our visit to Christie's New York where we learned about art work restitution after viewing Gustave Klimt's "Woman in Gold" at the Neue Galerie and Museum.

MUSEUM CAREER PROFILES

Ever wonder how the folks we talk to landed those great jobs? We can assure you that everyone has taken a different path. Check out our Museum Access Profiles episode this season to learn about the sometime unexpected journeys our guests have traveled in the museum world and be inspired!

We are so very grateful to all of our supporters that help us bring America's museums to classrooms and living rooms across the country and beyond. As we begin production for our 8th season (yep, 8th) we'd like to thank everyone for their generous tax-deductible donations. Without you, we could not offer our series to K-12 blind, deaf, autistic and learning challenged students through the important DCMP organization. Please click here to join our journey & thank you!

BEHIND – the – SCENES: The National Museum of Racing and Hall of Fame

“Having never had the pleasure of attending the spectacle of an actual thoroughbred horse race, our visit to the National Museum of Racing and Hall of Fame in Saratoga Springs, NY was eye opening to say the least. The collections of silks, trophies, paintings and sculptures along with the kid's playroom, an interactive 'call booth' and mechanical race horse were all memorable, but the incredibly moving short film shown in the Hall of Fame room actually brought me to tears. I can now say I am a new fan of the entire equine world!”

Host – Leslie Mueller
