3 Museums in One in MA!

We knew that the American Heritage Museum in Stow, MA had an incredible collection of historic military vehicles plus an impressive collection of aircraft in the historic aircraft hanger, but when we visited an unassuming, rustic building that houses a stunning collection of classic automobiles, we nearly fell over. Even more impressive, Director of Marketing and Communications, Hunter Chaney told us that every vehicle is in running condition! Stay tuned for our Season 3 visit to this off -the-beaten-track museum that's steeped in American history.

Out and About: A T-Rex Turtleneck?

The Natural History Museum in London decided that their Tyrannosaurus Rex needed a little holiday 'sprucing up' so they designed a giant, custom-made sweater and now this popular animated attraction is roaring to thrilled museum visitors while decked out in red, green and blue for the holidays.

Behind-the-Scenes: The Dali Museum, St. Petersburg, FL

"I was familiar with many of Salvador Dali's paintings prior to our visit to The Dali Museum but I had never seen any of his jewelry designs. What a treat it was to go behind-the-scenes and view them up close in the private archives of the museum and hear the stories behind each piece. I can't wait to share this episode with our viewers in Season 3. Stay tuned! "
