

WHERE LEARNING IS AN ADVENTURE!

The spectacular J. Paul Getty Museum sits on a massive hilltop overlooking Los Angeles, California. It was designed by famed architect Richard Meier.

Did Ya KNOW?

Upon the death of oil tycoon and art collector, J. Paul Getty in 1976, the museum became the most richly endowed in the world!

The mammoth plate wooden camera transformed the way we viewed the world.

The oversized photographic plates could capture a moment in time despite its 'mammoth' size.

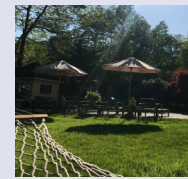

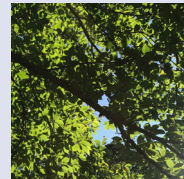

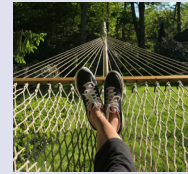

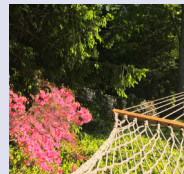

Unlike other forms of art, photographs cannot be kept on permanent display. The time they are exposed to light is very carefully monitored for their preservation.

Xtra Fun, Xtra Credit!

For adventurers 10+

Learn To See

Train your creative eye by standing in one place and taking 20 different pictures. Change locations and repeat.

Compare your pictures.

Keep it Moving!

Create a series of photographs on one topic – a flower blooming, clouds passing, a bird flying, a car passing, a friend running.

Study the motion.

Build it Test it Learn it!

These Photography Idea Cards include over 72 great themes to get any photographers' creative juices flowing.

Click here to purchase.

For more fun facts and information about Museum Access, go to www.museumaccess.com Or contact us at info@museumaccess.com

©Museum Access Media LLC 2020